

Dipl.-Ingenieur
Philip Gross
Partner

Overview

Studied engineering at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH), Zurich, Switzerland

Six years' professional experience in industry and management consultancy

International experience

Switzerland, France, Belgium

Functions

Licensing manager, production manager, consultant

Operational experience

Licensing management and export

Medium-size sports nutrition retailer

Production management

FMCG global player

Consultancy

Global management consultancy company

Professional career

Following studies in engineering at the ETH, Zurich, joined a medium-sized sports nutrition retailer in 2002 as head of licensing.

Responsibility for development and implementation of a licensing strategy to support a market launch in European countries outside Switzerland.

Moved to Unilever as a production manager with responsibility for projects to increase efficiency and productivity at production facilities in Switzerland.

From 2004 to 2007, senior consultant with Roland Berger Strategy Consultants. Member of the Consumer Goods & Retail core team focusing on strategy development, restructuring, mergers and acquisitions, and due diligence.

Since 2007, self-employed management consultant for medium-size businesses and financial investors in the consumer goods and retail sector.

Management
Support
Partners